ANNUAL REPORT

Headquarters, City Police Department,
Edmonton, Alberta,
October 16th, 1930.

His Worship Mayor J. M. Douglas,
Police Commissioner,
City.

Sir:—

I have the honour to present herewith my eleventh annual report of the operations of the Police Department covering the period from October 1st, 1929 to September 30th, 1930.

The numerical strength of the Force at present is 81 including all ranks, clerical staff and janitor. Of this number 65 are stationed at Headquarters, 11 at No. 2 Station, South Edmonton, 3 at No. 3 Station, North Edmonton and one at Calder Sub-station. Apart from the Police Department there is the Poundkeeper and Assistant Poundkeeper which constitute the staff of the City Pound at present located at the old No. 4 Station, Ross Flats.

I would again respectfully recommend that every consideration be given to the matter of increasing the strength of the Force, and would suggest that not less than five men be added to the strength of the Force this coming year. The activity in the building trade which has been in evidence during the past few years has continued, and there are far more buildings in the residential districts and there has continued to be a steady increase in the business and warehouse sections of the City, all of which have to be protected by members of the Department during their patrols. The outlying sections of the City also require attention, and cannot be efficiently patrolled unless the Force is increased.

The question of traffic regulations also requires considerable attention, and owing to the ever increasing number of motor vehicles on the streets and the number of accidents occurring, it is essential that the Traffic Squad be kept up to strength and be numerically capable of handling the work.

Health of the Force

With a few exceptions the health of the Force during the year has been quite good, there being one or two cases where it was, unfortunately, necessary for members of the Department to be absent from duty for more or less extended periods on account of sickness.

Pension Scheme

I would again urge the necessity of the adoption of some definite scheme whereby members of the Department would be enable to retire from active duty at a stipulated age and at a definite rate of pension. Such pension schemes are in existance in many of the large Forces and I am of the opinion that such a scheme could be satisfactorily operated on this Force. This would automatically take care of any members of the Force who have grown old in the service, and who, on account of their advanced age, might be unfitted to continue in their work. In my report for last year I referred to certain members of the Force who had grown old in the service and who, on account of their advanced age were not in a position to render the same service as a younger person could. During the year there was considerable discussion in regard to the retirement of these men and definite arrangements were finally made whereby they were to be retired on a small pension, on December 31st of this year. These retirements cover six men and the Police Matron. Among the men to be retired are: one Inspector and a Detective Sergeant, the remainder being Constables. I would not recommend at this time that any promotions be made to fill these two ranks, but would recommend that steps be taken to engage a Matron and six men on January 1st, 1931. At the same time I would recommend that provisions be made for taking five additional men on the Force during the forthcoming year. I might mention that in the past month the Calgary City Police Force has been strengthened by the addition of seven men. The Chief Constable of that City has asked for twenty men to be added to the Force. Seven have been provided for and the matter of the balance has been promised consideration at the beginning of next year. With a view to economizing as far as possible, however, I am only requesting the addition of five men at this time.

Discipline

The discipline of the Force during the past 12 months has been excellent. There have only been one or two cases where it was necessary for members of the Force to be reported, and in practically every instance these were the newer members of the Force and the breaches of discipline were only minor ones.

Expenditure

Expenditures for the first nine months in 1930 was $121,818.08 and for the corresponding period in 1929 was $115,795.32. This increase in expenditure is due almost entirely to the increase in salaries granted to the Officers, Detectives and Sergeants. At the time the estimates were passed no provision was made for any increase in salaries, and it is unfortunate, therefore, that our salary estimate will be exceeded at the end of the year by approximately the amount of the increase involved. I have consistently endeavored to keep the expenditure of the Department as low as possible without impairing the efficiency of the Department, and with the exception of salaries I anticipate that our expenditure will be within our appropriation at the end of the year.

Motor Vehicles

At the present time the following motor vehicles are in use by this Department: one patrol wagon, one Dodge sedan, and one Ford sedan attached to Headquarters and one Ford touring car attached to No. 2 Station, South Edmonton. There are also two motor cycles with sidecars for use of station duty officers which are also used for flying patrols when required. A solo machine is also used by the Traffic Squad. In addition there are ordinary bicycles in use at North Edmonton, South Edmonton, Calder and Headquarters. The Dodge car has now travelled over 33,000 miles, and by the end of the year will probably have travelled over 35,000 miles. It has been in use for two years now and has given good service, and in view of the length of service and mileage travelled I would recommend that it be turned in at the end of the year and a new higher powered car be purchased to replace it, as it is especially desirable that a fast car be in possession of this Department. It has been found to be good business in the past to trade in the Ford car each year, and I would also recommend that the Ford car be traded in and another obtained in its place.

Uniforms and Equipment

The uniform equipment of the Department is in good condition. It was necessary during the year to purchase new fall coats for the officers and some of the Sergeants of the Force, and also for the Chauffeurs, replacing coats which have been in service for fifteen years. It will be necessary to replace one or two fall coats next year and some 12 or 13 raincoats. Caps were purchased for the Constables in 1929, and as I consider that these should be replaced every two years I would recommend that provisions be made in the estimates for purchasing new caps.

Horses

There is only one horse kept by the Department at the present time, this being used for patrol work in the outlying districts of North Edmonton. There is however a horse at the City Pound which is available for use when required. The number of horses in use by the Department has been steadily decreasing through the past few years as motor cycles and side cars have been used to a great extent in patrolling the outlying districts.

Uniform Department

The total number of persons booked through the Police Register during the 12 months' period was 1604. During the immediately preceding 12 months the total was 1714. The total number of male persons arrested was 1406, being 118 less than for the preceding 12 months, but the female prisoners totalled 198, an increase of 8 over the preceding 12 months. Of the total number of arrests 418 were for intoxication, 207 for theft, 178 for vagrancy, 71 for common assault and 62 for false pretences. There was no other classification of crime in which the total number of arrests exceeded 50. There were, however, 67 persons before the Court for insanity and of this number 61 were committed to mental hospitals. Reference to the statistical report appended hereto will show that there were 11 fatal street accidents during the 12 months. In addition to these there were 2087 street accidents reported to the Department. This, I am pleased to report, shows a decrease of almost 300 compared with the preceding 12 months. It is a regrettable fact however, that a large number of business houses still leave their premises insecure at night. During 1929 there were 754 cases of premises being unlocked or left insecure reported by Constables patrolling their various beats. This figure increased to 1019 for the 12 months ending September 30th, 1930, and is a matter which should be given every possible attention by business firms. I have, in fact, called attention to this matter on various occasions through the medium of the Press. There were 1343 summons cases before the Court compared with 1779 during the preceding 12 months. The decrease is accounted for almost entirely by the decrease in the number of prosecutions under City Bylaws. During the year a number of traffic signs, parking signs and stop signs were installed, particularly in the down-town sections and central sections of the City. It has been the policy of the Department not to inflict unnecessary hardship on persons who have been guilty of committing minor breaches of City Bylaws, in such cases a warning being given, and a record being kept of the fact. This action being taken in connection with the new traffic signs at and about the time of their erection would result in fewer prosecutions. The public generally, however, are now fully cognizant of the Bylaws and the signs relating thereto which have been erected for their guidance, and it is likely that in the forthcoming year there will be fewer warnings and more prosecutions. Insofar as traffic conditions are concerned, I consider that there are sufficient signs erected for our present requirements and I do not consider that any more should be necessary just now, with the possible exception of any places where there are dangerous curves and where it is advisable for warning signs to be erected.

Detective Department

There has been a steady increase by the work done by the Detective Department. In the year 1923 there were 2054 complaints reported to the Detective Department for investigation and during the past year there were no less than 4217, an increase of over one hundred per cent in seven years. 232 automobiles were stolen during the year and with one or two exceptions were recovered within a short time after the theft was reported. There were, however, 350 bicycles reported stolen a considerable number of which are still unrecovered. Many of these bicycles were stolen by boys, and in a very large number of cases bicycles are stolen by boys for the purpose of obtaining only a part, such as a wheel or handle bars, to make up some deficiency in their own bicycle, the rest of the stolen bicycle being scrapped or concealed. This makes the detection of the offence very difficult.

There were very few major crimes reported, there being a decrease in the number of complaints of robbery while armed, and similar crimes. One person was arrested during the year on a warrant charged with murder, this charge arising out of the circumstances surrounding the death of another woman who was alleged to have died as a result of an illegal operation performed upon her by the accused woman. The charge was, however, subsequently reduced to one of manslaughter. During the year there were 182 cases of worthless cheques reported to the Department, and it is still apparently a simple matter for persons to cash worthless cheques at many of the City stores. In quite a number of cases no ingenuity is displayed by the persons who cash the cheques, and in such cases an ordinary amount of caution should protect business houses when such attempts are made to obtain goods or money by means of worthless cheques. There was a total of 566 prosecutions under the Government Liquor Control Act, Inland Revenue Act and those laws having to do with the manufacture, sale and consumption of intoxicating liquors. This is exactly 100 less than for the preceding year, and the decrease is accounted for almost entirely by the fewer prosecutions of persons for being intoxicated, the figures being 515 for 1929 and 418 in 1930. The total of other offences under the Liquor Control Act is practically the same as last year.

Fines

There has been a decrease of almost fifty per cent in the amount of fines payable to the City. At the present time the City receives the full amount of the fines under the Liquor Control Act, where the informations are laid by members of the Police Department. It also receives the total amount of fines imposed under City Bylaws, and a moiety of fines imposed for breaches of the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act, and there has been a decrease of revenue from each of these sources. The total amount of fines collected for the 12 months ending September 30th, 1930 was $10,746.50 and for the preceding year the total was $15,452.00. As stated above there was a large decrease in the number of prosecutions under City Bylaws, and 100 less prosecutions for intoxication. This would account to a large extent for the decrease in fines collected. The number of prosecutions for offences under the Liquor Control Act, other than intoxication, was approximately the same as last year, but in many cases fines were not paid, with the resultant decrease in revenue. Members of the Liquor Enforcement Branch operate in the City and their activities result in quite a number of prosecutions under the Liquor Control Act. Where the arrests are effected by these officers no portion of the fine is payable to the City.

General

Splendid co-operation has been afforded me by all members of the Department during the past 12 months, and I desire to take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation to them, and also to yourself as Police Commissioner for the co-operation and assistance which I have received from you. My thanks are also due to the Police Magistrates of the City, to the Officer Commanding the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the Commissioner of the Alberta Provincial Police, to the Officers of the Department of neglected Children and to the Department of Investigation of the Railroad Companies, as well as to the Officers commanding the various Military Units, Service Clubs, Good Roads Association, the Salvation Army, Scout Commissioner and Boy Scouts for the advice and assistance which they have given when required.

My thanks are also due to the Commissioner of the Alberta Liquor Control Board and to the Supervisor of Enforcement who have given this Department the utmost co-operation, as have also the staff of the Attorney General's Department and the Crown Prosecutor.

I am pleased to report that the fullest co-operation exists between this and other Police Departments, both in Canada and in the United States, and this co-operation results in very effectual work being done. It was my privilege to attend the Convention of the Chief Constables' Association which was held in Hamilton, Ontario this year. The Convention was well attended, and a great deal of important business was transacted which should be of benefit to all Police Departments, and I am of the opinion that it is through such Conventions that a liberal exchange of views in regard to Police matters can be had, resulting in mutual benefit to all concerned.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

A. G. SHUTE,
Chief Constable.

NOTABLE CASES

There were a number of cases which were handled by the Department during the year which are worthy of special mention. Particularly among them were several cases of robberies with violence and robberies while armed. The arrests of a number of men charged with these offences, and their subsequent convictions and sentences to terms of imprisonment reflected considerable credit on the members of the Department concerned, and resulted in a stop being put to this class of crimes with violence.

Among the more notable cases are the following:

Angus D. Cameron: Following complaints made by a number of storkeepers in regard to worthless cheques being cashed which were subsequently returned by the Bank marked "No account" investigations were made which resulted in Cameron's arrest. Evidence was produced showing that he had negotiated a number of cheques for small amounts and that he had also attempted to cash one cheque for three hundred dollars. He pleaded guilty to these charges, and was sentenced to nine months imprisonment.

James J. Smith: This young man was arrested as a result of numerous complaints of overcoats being stolen from one of the collegiate institutions in the City. Investigations were made which resulted in eleven overcoats being recovered, and Smith being arrested. It was then learned that Smith had a previous record and that he had already been convicted in the City of Calgary on charges of theft of automobile and carrying concealed weapons. He was convicted on ten charges of theft and three charges of burglary and was sentenced to one year's imprisonment on each charge concurrently. Since his release from prison he repeated his offence and stole twelve overcoats valued at nearly two hundred and fifty dollars, was again arrested, and was sentenced to two years in the Penitentiary.

Alex Marchuk and Bill Lylick: These two men were arrested by members of the Detective Department as a result of numerous charges of robbery while armed, and theft, and following their arrest a large quantity of miscellaneous articles including tools, clothing automobile rugs, etc. was recovered. These men were undoubtedly desperate criminals, and were surprised by detectives when about to hold up a victim at the point of a gun. They resisted arrest and shots were exchanged before they were finally placed under arrest. They each received sentences varying from 6 month on the minor charges against them to ten years with lashes on the major charges, and were recommended for deportation after their time had been served.

Their arrest and conviction resulted in a stop being put to crimes of violence in the City at that time.

John Barclay and Frank Mikota: These men were also arrested and convicted in connection with charges of robbery with violence, and in addition a charge of breaking and entering was also preferred against them, both being convicted. Mikota was sentenced to three years and twenty lashes, and Barclay to two years less one day.

Harry Segar and Joe Lessarde: During the night of February 15th, 1930, a telephone call was received at Police Headquarters to the effect that two men had attempted to indecently assault a young lady who was walking along the street. The two accused were riding in an automobile at the time, and noticing the young lady on the street accosted her and endeavoured to force her into the car after offering her money. She got away from them and ran into a nearby service station, and the Police were communicated with and made investigations which resulted in the arrest of Segar and Lessarde. They were both found guilty and fined.

Albert Barron: This young man entered a store in the City and held up the proprietor at the point of a gun and robbed him of the sum of sixty dollars. He succeeded in making his getaway, but as a result of prompt action on the part of the Police, and the splendid co-operation on the part of members of the staff of the Canadian National Railway, Barron was arrested at Unity, Saskatchewan on the following day, by the Chief Constable at Unity. He was returned to Edmonton for trial, duly convicted, and sentenced to two years imprisonment with ten lashes.

Maurice Madsen: This man was arrested following a complaint made by himself to the effect that a vault in his custody had been burglariously entered and a large sum of money stolen therefrom. The accused in this case was employed as caretaker in a large block, and it was part of his duties to receive the rents from tenants and deposit same with the agent for the block. Thorough investigations were made by the Police into the alleged burglary, and as a result of such investigations came to the conclusion that the complaint was not a bona fide one. Continuing the investigations it appeared that Madsen had collected rents and had unlawfully converted the money to his own use and then endeavoured to evade the consequences by reporting the money as having been stolen from the vault in the building. A warrant was therefore issued for his arrest on a charge of theft by conversion of the sum of one thousand and thirty two dollars. He was duly convicted and sentenced to a term of imprisonment for this offence.

James Lanch: This man was arrested as a result of complaint that a lady's purse had been snatched from her whilst walking along the street. There had been somewhat of an epidemic of purse snatching in the City, and his arrest and subsequent conviction cleared up what appeared to be a series of similar offences. He was sentenced to six months imprisonment on this charge, and was found to have a previous record of convictions for Vagrancy, Breaking and Entering, and other offences.

Mike Humeniuk and Sam Melynuk: Both these men had been implicated in charges of robbery with violence, arising out of the holding up of some men who were assaulted and robbed. Humeniuk was arrested shortly after the crimes were committed in the City of Edmonton, and ten days later Melynuk was arrested by the Alberta Provincial Police at Smoky Lake, Alberta. Both were convicted and sentenced to ten years imprisonment and thirty lashes.

Carl John Jorgensen: A number of cheques varying in amounts from eleven dollars to three hundred and seventy five dollars were negotiated by this man, and totalled approximately seven hundred dollars, before his arrest was effected. In addition to obtaining sundry goods and cash on these cheques he also succeeded in obtaining an automobile. He was convicted on eleven charges of False Pretences, Forgery, and Uttering Forged Documents, and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

John Daniels: A quantity of jewellery and other articles, including about two hundred dollars in cash was stolen from dwelling houses in the City, and as a result of investigations made John Daniels was arrested, and most of the stolen articles recovered, having been sold in second hand stores. He appeared in Police Court on two charges of burglary, and was convicted and sentenced to 3 months imprisonment.

W. E. Davis: This man represented himself as being connected with a lumber company in this City, and in this manner was able to cash a number of cheques for small amounts, a total of slightly over one hundred dollars being involved. He was arrested and charged on six counts with False Pretences and one charge of beating board bill, was found guilty and placed on probation for two years. Restitution was made in full in all cases.

Labori Wiseman: On making an examination of the premises of the Public Library one Sunday morning, the caretaker found that the safe had been broken open and its contents rifled, the sum of sixty dollars being stolen. The safe had been knocked over on to its face, and the back had been almost completely chiselled out. An examination of the premises disclosed the fact that entry had been gained through a window at the rear of the Library, and a fingerprint was found on the window. This fingerprint was photographed and enlarged, and copies were sent out to a large number of other Police Departments with the request that their files be searched in an effort to ascertain whose fingerprint it was. At the same time full information as to the manner in which the crime had been committed was given in circulars which were also widely distributed among Police Departments. Some three weeks afterwards information was received from the City of Winnipeg Police Department to the effect that they had identified the fingerprint as that of one Labori Wiseman, who had broken open a safe in Thief River Falls, Minnesota, some months previously. This man had, in the meantime been arrested at Brandon, Manitoba, on 4 charges of burglary, and was convicted and sentenced to two years imprisonment. Great credit is due to the officers concerned, both at Edmonton and Winnipeg for their work in establishing the identity of the man who broke into the safe here in this case.
